NARCON attendees

Briefly describe your activities with this group:

We discussed our USLI project with rocket display, a self-running power point show, and members talking to people after an initial talk.

Then we, and various participants throughout the morning, built and launched compressed air-powered paper rockets along the length of the large classroom

Did you conduct an evaluation of your educational engagement? If so, what were the results?

We solicited verbal evaluations and the comments were very favorable.

- Yours is the only hands-on activity here at NARCON
- I had no idea that paper rockets could be so easily made and flown
- This is a great intro to rocketry
- Fun activity

Afterwards we received two email complimenting us on our session
